MEN'S CLUB BRINGS BACK PESACH WINE TASTING, SUNDAY, MARCH 7

We are commanded to drink four glasses of the fruit of the vine at each seder, so why suffer through another holiday with inferior wine? Just because wine should be "Kosher for Passover" doesn't mean it has to be cloyingly sweet. And why drive around and around looking for just the right bottles, or select something based entirely on a whim (or by the color of the label)?

CKI's Men's Club is pleased to announce that its popular Pesach Wine Tasting is back! Thanks to the good people at Binny's Beverage Depot, Men's Club will host a Pesach Wine Tasting at CKI on Sunday, March 7, from 10:00 am to Noon. There will be a variety of reds and whites, and all 100% Kosher for Passover.

Need help? Wine experts from Binny's will be here to guide you along.

Your purchases on the 7th will be delivered to CKI for pick up here on the 14th, in plenty of time for your first seder. Checks and credit cards will be accepted. Prices will be fair; proceeds will benefit Men's Club programming.

There will be no obligation to purchase anything, but when you try, we're sure you'll buy!

The "CKI SENIORS" Lox & Bagel Luncheon

Tuesday, March 9 • 12:00 noon at CKI

RSVP to SHIRLEY FRIEDMAN • hockey-puck@sbcglobal.net or (847) 888-3308

Please respond DEFINITELY NO LATER THAN Thursday, March 4.
Payment by cash or check at $8.00 per person.
Please make check payable to "Cash."

"20th Century Maccabees"

The Adult Education committee, 50+ Group, and Social Action committee are very excited to present an enjoyable program late Shabbat afternoon on Saturday, March 20: Mincha at 5:00 pm followed by an interactive discussion; dinner at 6:00 pm followed by Ma'ariv and Havdalah; and an 8:00 pm showing of the movie Defiance, the true story of the Bielski Brothers, who hid Jews from the Nazis in the forests of Belarus.

This event is free of charge to all over the age of 17 (the movie is not suitable to younger persons). The general public is welcome. Please invite your friends and neighbors. Whenever Jews assemble, we observe Tikkun Olam (our responsibility to 'repair the world') by performing Mitzvot. Therefore, admission is free, but we encourage you to bring a minimum two items per person to donate to the CKI Food Cupboard. Please be respectful of Shabbat: the donations will be collected after Havdalah.

Prior to the movie, a light dinner will be provided to CKI members, compliments of the 50+ Group. (Non-CKI members may, if they choose, purchase dinner for $10 per person.) Registration is required so that we may plan adequate quantities of food. The purchase of dinner is not a requirement to participate in the discussion or see the movie.

Bar Mitzvah

Joseph Burton Miller will be called to the Torah as Bar Mitzvah on March 27, 2010. Joey is a 7th grade student at Eastview Middle School.

He enjoys reading, in-line skating, videogames, ice skating, and helping his mom and dad at their jobs. Joey has also benefitted from serving others at the Good News Community Kitchen in West Rogers Park.

Sharing this special occasion with Joey are his parents, Scott Miller and Susan Robbins, and his grandparents, Jerry and Judy Miller, and Howard and Rhoda Robbins. Also sharing this wonderful day are aunts, uncles, cousins, mentors, and friends. Joey is especially blessed to have his great-great aunts Irene Mayer and Bertha Yastrov sharing his special day.

Something that Joey has gained from his Jewish education is the desire to go to Israel and see the places he has read about.

Be Creative For This Pesach!

At the Sisterhood meeting at 7:00 pm on March 9, you will have the opportunity to create a family heirloom for Passover. Wanda Pitzele will help us make a matzoh plate with decoupage fabric. Cost for the craft will be $6, payable that night.

Please reserve with Wanda by March 2 so she will know how many glass plates to bring. Children and teens, fourth grade and up, are invited to participate. It will take about an hour to make the plates. The Sisterhood meeting and light refreshments will follow.

A sample will be available at the gift shop, in case you want to know what it will look like.

Sisterhood News

February presented some weather challenges, but the joint Sisterhood Hadassah meeting did happen, just delayed. At least we were not bombarded with snow like the East coast!

This year, March ends with Passover. It seems like it takes the whole month to prepare. Whether that preparation involves changing your kitchen and/or making traditional family favorites, it takes planning. It is also about memories. I do not think there are many families that do not have a funny seder story or two to share. Most of my stories involve my now grown daughters, and I have been asked not to put them in print, but feel free to ask—I will share!

Seders involve preparation. The gift shop can help set your table or supply the afikomen prize.

The library has resources if you need help in planning. Sisterhood members have ways that they have handled the holiday, so if you have questions, feel free to reach out. On March 9, we will be hosting a craft event, guided by artisan Wanda Pitzele, to help set your table.

Hope your planning goes well!

See you in March. Remember, if you need a ride to the meeting or any activity, please call. But whatever you do, join us for a little or a lot, but come join us.

THE TIME HAS COME - LOX BOX ORDER FORMS
HAVE ARRIVED!! See page 5 for an order form.
Extra forms can be downloaded from the website,
www.CKIElgin.org.

This is what our Social Action/Tikkun Olam (SATO) Chairs, Leah Schillmoeller and Danielle Piraino have to say about the Lox Box Sale: This year for a fundraiser, USY has decided to put together something that everyone can enjoy, LOX BOXES! These mouth-watering kosher meal packs include: a half-dozen bagels, eight ounces of Philadelphia Cream Cheese, eight ounces of Vita lox, one red onion, one tomato, two Maxwell House Instant Coffee Singles, one mini-marble pound cake, and one 3.5 ounce Joyva Halvah Bar, all for the low price of $36! If lox isn't your thing, you can buy them for neighbors, siblings, fathers, or mothers; there is also the mitzvah option to give back to the Elgin community by purchasing boxes, which will be delivered by USY members, to the Community Crisis Center. Purchase your box today! Not only will you help out USY SATO and the community, but you will also enjoy a delicious, creamy, savory meal without the hassle. Plus, everyone enjoys a good bagel and schmear! Here is the information about where SATO money goes: Like our own congregation, USY raises money through Tikkun Olam. It is comforting to some to know where this money is going and how it is helping the Jewish people and your own USYers at CKI. Tikkun Olam money is distributed as follows:

- 30% goes to the Conservative movement in Israel.

- 30% goes towards scholarships for USYers. Unfortunately, not every USYer can afford to go on every regional kinnus, International Convention, Pilgrimage, USY high, Nativ, etc. without applying for scholarships within USY.
- 40% goes towards organizations all around the world. Each chapter can actually decide to which organization their 40% can go by allocating their money to one of the USY approved organizations.

T.O. money is really what keeps USY going, and Lox Boxes are a great opportunity for members of CKI to support USY and, generally, Social Action/Tikkun Olam!

Orders will be delivered to CKI on Sunday, April 11—shortly after Passover. What a great time to enjoy a bagel! Please support the kids in this lofty effort!

USY/Kadima in Review: Gameworks was fun. 19 kids attended—2 hours of gaming plus a pizza and salad lunch.

Thanks to Lucy Marshall, Danielle Piraino and Leah Schillmoeller for delivering Meals on Wheels. It was a great way to add meaning to a day off of school. They got to meet several elderly Elgin residents and spend a few minutes with each one.

Davin, Dish and Dine hosted 8 kids for a dairy lunch at Al's Cafe after services on January 23. Several of the kids took on leadership roles during the service. It was a great way to brush up on some skills which some of them have not utilized since their Bar/Bat Mitzvahs!

Movie night was lots of fun! The Tooth Fairy was certainly entertaining, but IHOP afterwards was the best! Sixteen USY/Kadimanicks attended!

UPCOMING USY/Kadima PROGRAMS IN MARCH:

7 – USY/Kadima LaserMaxx

8 – USY Board Meeting, 8 pm - Begin Lox Box Sale

13 – USY Board Lock-in 7 pm to 9 am

Often, parents or kids will ask me if they can bring their non-Jewish friends to USY/Kadima programs. Lucy Marshall, our USY President, consulted Hannah Miller, the CHUSY President, on the issue. Here was her response: "USY is a Jewish organization in which Jewish teens meet and form relationships with other Jewish teens. Our goal is to instill a love and passion for Judaism while creating and exploring our own Jewish identities through education and programming. When non-Jews take part in our programs, it makes this mission more challenging." But, having said that, we as a Board, voted on the subject and decided to open up two programs a year to our non-Jewish friends. We thought it would be nice for us to meet each other's outside friends and allow our friends a peek into our world. The two programs open to all youth are Ice Skating and Movie Night.

From the Rabbi's Study...

The Passover Revolution

If we believe something and everyone agrees with us, then it's safe to say that we've got an obvious truth, right? No, actually, it's not safe at all. For instance, for millennia people believed that there were many gods, and all that time it wasn't obvious that there was only one. We take many ideas for granted now just because everyone believes in them. It staggers the imagination to consider how revolutionary these ideas must have been when they were first introduced.

Consider, for instance, the first principles of morality. We're inclined to believe that all religions teach the same fundamentals, and that they differ only in detail and execution. Wrong! Morality seems to be different now top to bottom from what it was in ancient times.

Rabbi Harold Schulweis of California points this out in an article that appeared in Moment magazine in 1996, that introduced readers to some thoughts of the late-19th century German philosopher, Friedrich Nietzsche.

Nietzsche wrote that there were two kinds of morality: master morality ("herrenmoral") and slave morality ("sklavenmoral"). Each morality was designed to advance the interests of its class.

Master morality sought to dominate, and to secure the power of the slavemaster. This morality said that what was right was whatever a master could do with impunity. When power dominates, then the strong gain in strength and the fortunate gain in privilege. Things get better and better for the ruling class. Society is strengthened, he said, when the weak are suppressed. If the strong were compelled to aid the weak, then their strength would be divided and compromised rather than enlarged, and the very possibility of greatness in any class would be undermined. The willingness to dominate is itself the mark of greatness, said Nietzsche, who praised the master morality for giving every advantage to those most willing and able to exercise power.

Master morality is subjective. The master decides what is right and wrong. The slave could try to decide that too, but it wouldn't help him, because he lacks the power to effect his will. In the master morality, mastery is itself a virtue.

The slave morality, said Nietzsche, holds that slavery is a virtue, and that one should prefer to be among the oppressed rather than among the oppressors. (Interestingly, this is precisely the advice of Maimonides, the great Jewish sage.) Since slaves have no power to wield, they try to effect their will by imposing a universal morality that would bind the master. The slave would be under the same universal code, but he alone would have nothing to lose by it. Writes Rabbi Schulweis: "Envious of the master, the slave would love to hold the rod, whip, and chain and give orders and commands. But, powerless, the slave can only resort to trickery to sabotage the master. With artful guile, the slave subverts the natural, healthy, dominating instincts of the strong. How clever of the sparrow to convince the hawk that it is evil to devour sparrows."

For the slave, then, conscience is a moral force. For the master, lack of conscience is. "To the master, 'good' means powerful, and 'bad' means weakness. But to the slave, 'good' means caring, compassion, and pity; 'bad' means humiliation, domination, and repression."

Nietzsche wrote that it was the Jews, born of slavery, who subverted the natural order and undermined master morality throughout the world. Now everybody accepts the morality of compassion. It's the slave's revenge.

How mercilessly the Torah attacks "master morality." The entire community is commanded to protect its very weakest: "the widow, the orphan, the poor, and the stranger in your midst" (Deuteronomy 16:11). And the attack is expanded by the rabbis. As Rabbi Schulweis summarizes the edicts of the Sages: "You may not make a servant do menial tasks, tell a servant to carry his master's clothes after him to the bathhouse, or have him take off the master's shoes. The servant must be treated as an equal. The master may not eat white bread while offering the slave black bread. The master may not drink old wine and offer the slave new wine or sleep on down feathers while placing the servant on straw. He may not reside in the city and his servant in the country or live in the country while the servant is in the city ... Therefore, the Sages themselves concluded, 'He who buys a Hebrew bondman is as if he has bought a master for himself.'" As for the heathen slave, Maimonides writes, "One cannot speak to him cruelly. One cannot humiliate him or shame him, neither with your hand nor with your words. Because, while the Bible allowed slavery, it did not allow humiliation."

When we left Egypt, we rejected the moral system that had until then been accepted universally. Even we ourselves under the whips of Egypt agreed to Pharaoh's morality. We knew of no other; we just wanted our hands on those whips. But God would have none of it, and He chose as our leader the only man at the time who rejected the master system. Our own master, Moses, taught the morality of the slave, and through him God set up a moral code whose basics are accepted today by the entire civilized world. It has come to define civilization. Through the Exodus the ways of Egypt were confounded entirely, and both Pharaoh and his moral system are now overthrown ("Horse and rider has He dashed into the sea" [Exodus 15:1]).

Pesach, therefore, did not just free our people. It set on earth the very foundation of God's rule. The victory of God's morality over Pharaoh's is so absolute that we don't even notice it. The memory of Pharaoh's world has been all but obliterated. Everyone now accepts the moral system introduced by this bedraggled band of slaves. It appears to us as simple common sense, like the unity of God. For after all, don't all moral codes protect the weak and restrain the strong?

Yes, they do. But they didn't used to. And they wouldn't now, if not for the events that we celebrate on Pesach.

Yahrtzeiten

We recall with loving memory those whose yahrtzeiten are commemorated during the coming weeks, and those whose names are read in the Synagogue at Friday evening and Saturday morning Shabbat services during the month of March. It is appropriate for members of their families to be present when these names are read.
